

--That the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections.

I no longer get woke up in the early mornings on my days off nor do I get jolted awake if I fall asleep in my recliner after work. I very rarely have supper interrupted these days. Our entire family appreciates this a lot.

Some days we would come home and there would be over a dozen calls listed on our caller ID, unknown caller of course. Now there is hardly every any there. If a member of the family was home sick they were tormented with phone calls all day long. Not anymore.